Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Agarwal (of record).

In response to the rejection, the applicant argues that the reference differs from the claims language in that the claim language includes a limitation of providing a list creation state to enable the initiator to enter, through a user interface, a list of items of buying or selling interest with select volumes. In contrast, the prior art teaches of listing only a single security. This argument is not persuasive for several reasons. First, the argument is not commensurate in scope with the claim language which can read on creating a list, wherein the list contains a single security. Second, there is no reason to believe that the prior art is limited to listing a single security. Inherent in the prior art is the ability to call up the screen of figure 5 and list multiple securities. Given this reading, the claims are anticipated by the prior art as well. In addition, the applicant's arguments directed to not being able to combine the elements of the primary and secondary market trading systems where the primary and secondary market trading systems are described in the same reference is not persuasive. The examiner is not aware of any precedent for this argument.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Respectfully
